PROPOSED CHANGE IN DE-BATING RULES.

Elecutionary Oratory Seems to Be Practically Dead-Much Activity in Debating Circles.

special Correspondence of The Sunday Republic

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 5.—At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Debating League communications from Kansas and Nebraska universities were read. Kansus proposed to change the rule governing the interstate debates which allowed each speaker titteen minutes and the affirmative ten minutes for rebutial and the negative eight, to read that each speaker shall have twelve minutes and both the affirmative and the negative nine minutes for rebuttal. This change was agreed to by the committee. It was voted to hold a special meeting to arrange the programme for the preliminary for the Kansas debate. At this meeting, on motion of E. F. Cameron, it was decided to hold but one preliminary for the Kansas debate, but to continue two nights, Friday and Saturday, February 16 and 17, the first six of the fourteen speakers to come on Friday night and the other eight on Saturday night. The judges are to select the three men to represent the University from these fourteen speakers. The contestants were present at the meeting and drew lots for shies and places.
